CITY AND SURBURBAN.

AN IMPORTANT CASE—THE QUESTION OF CONFISCATION IN COURT.—In the United States Court yesterday, Judge Underwood presiding, Mr. Millson moved to dismiss, without costs, certain proceedings pending against Messrs. P. V. Daniel, Sr., and G. A. Myers, first, upon the ground that, before the institution of these proceedings, the parties had taken the amnesty oath prescribed by the proclamation of President Lincoln) and next, upon the construction of the special pardons granted to these gentlemen by the President, dated in July, and before the libels were issued.

In support of the first ground, he argued that the offer of pardon made by Mr. Lincoln was a continuing act, and did not, therefore, undertake to pardon future offences, as supposed by the Attorney-General, but, until withdrawn, ran into the future and secured amnesty, from time, for acts committed after the offer was made; that if this were not so, then none of the offences described in the act of July 17th, 1862, could be pardoned at all, for no one was liable to any of the penalties named in the act before the expiration of the sixty day notice given by the President's proclamation, under that act, and if offences committed, after the date of the proclamation, could not be pardoned by it, then the offer of pardon could have no effect at all; neither upon past acts, for they were not offences under the law, nor upon future acts, if the offer of pardon did not apply to future acts; that the Attorney-General himself seemed to be aware that his position was untenable when he afterwards maintained that the offer of pardon might be accepted and made available if done within a reasonable time; that it was true that an offer not accepted within a reasonable time might be withdrawn, but that no one but the President himself had the right to determine what was a reasonable time, and at what period the clemency should be withdrawn, and a new one substituted upon other conditions, and that until President Johnson, on the 20th day of May, issued a new proclamation prescribing new conditions of pardon, the proclamation of Mr. Lincoln continued to have the same effect as on the day it was issued.

In support of the second ground, Mr. Millson contended that the special pardons, which were dated respectively the 3d and 18th Suly, only required the parties to pay the costs incurred in suits "hitherto" instituted—that is, before the dates of the pardons. That, although the pardons were not to take effect before the parties accepted the terms, which was done after the suits were instituted, yet, in taking effect then, they were to have all the effect intended by the pardons themselves, and that was, to require the payment only of such costs as had been incurred before they were dated, &c., &c.

Mr. Gustavus Myers said that he did not rise to add anything to the able and conclusive argument of Mr. Millson, but only to furnish the Court with some authorities bearing upon the case. He quoted from the "Year Book," 37; Henry 6th, page 21, plea 9; 17 Vining's Abridgement, page 32 (prerogative of the King.) In a note, Vining adds that a charter pardon shall have relation to the date, and not to the delivery, being a matter of record, although of a matter in pais. Adjudged Latch 22, in Boston's case.

Judge Joynes of Petersburg, followed Mr. Myers, and said that the acts of Mr. Lincoln and General Grant, after the evacuation of Richmond, are a part of the history of the times, and show that they regarded Mr. Lincoln's proclamation of the 3d of December, 1863, as a continuing offer of pardon. It is true that Attorney General Speed thinks differently, and contends that there cannot be a pardon for offences not committed; that the power of conferring general pardon does not reside in the Executive. I am aware (said Judge Joynes) that under the Constitution he has not this power; but then there is a power to make war, which implies a power to make peace. And this proclamation was a peace-offering from President Lincoln to parties in rebellion to induce them to lay down their arms and return to their allegiance to the United States Government. It was not the work of the President alone, but was the joint work of Congress and the Executive. Herein lies the error of the Attorney-General. The same thing happened on the restoration of Charles II, when an unconditional amnesty was granted, and on the accession of William of Orange, when to the pardon conditions were annexed.—These amnesties were not acts of royal grace, but had the sanction of Parliament, which made them continuing.

Judge Joynes informed the Judge that this morning he will furnish him the opinion of Judge Jackson, of West Virginia, in the case of John Knote, in which he takes similar ground.

The case was then continued until this morning, at 10 o'clock, when Mr. James Lyons will speak in favor of the petitioners and Mr. L. H. Chandler on behalf of the Government. General Millson will close the case for the petitioners.

A number of leading citizens and others, interested with marked attention to the arguments which we have only briefly sketched.

STRANGE STORY—EXTRAORDINARY OFFER BY A MEMBER OF THE CABINET.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Mr. Schade says he was called upon by several persons last night, as was also Father Boyle, who communicated information purporting to come from a member of the cabinet, to the effect that if Wirz would acknowledge that Jeff Davis was connected with the atrocities at Andersonville, his sentence should be commuted. Although Mr. Schade did not place full confidence in the reports, he considered it to be his duty to relate what took place between himself and the prisoner at his last conference with him. Captain Wirz, in reply to a question, said, "Mr. Schade, you know I have always told you that I did not know anything about Jeff Davis.—He had no connection with me as to what was done at Andersonville, and if I knew he had, I would not become a traitor against him or any one else to save my life."

A young Scotch nobleman, still a minor, has been lately playing at a German watering place, losing on an average £1,500 a day! An English paper hopes that he, at least, respects the Sunday, and thereby saves something by his good rising up.

Co-Partnership.

NEW BERN, NORTH CAROLINA, Nov. 1st, 1865.

WE HAVE this day formed a Co-Partnership under the name and style of

WHITFORD, DILL & CO.,

For the transaction of a Shiping and

GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS

in this Town, West Side Craven Street, on Old County Wharf.

To the sale of COTTON, NAVAL SAORES, TOBACCO, LUMBER, STAVES, SHINGLES, CORN, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of

Real Estate and State and other Stocks,

we will give personal attention.

☞ We are Agents for MURRAY'S NORTH CAROLINA SEMI-WEEKLY LINE OF STEAMSHIPS, between NEWBERN and NEW YORK, and for Sailing Vessels for BALTIMORE, PHILADELPHIA, and other Ports in the United States, and for different Ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a Weekly line of OCEAN STEAMSHIP on the same route, and a Tri-Weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeak Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ WE WILL MAKE LIBERAL ADVANCES ON CONSIGNMENTS.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight or on any other business, will be promptly answered.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.

LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND ART.

New Volume begins January, 1865.

THE ECLECTIC MAGAZINE is as its name indicates, a selection from other magazines and periodicals. These selections are carefully made each month, from the entire range of foreign Periodicals. In this respect it is entirely unlike other monthlies, and has no rival. The following are some of the works from which selections are made:

London Quarterly,	Revue de Deux Mondes,
British Quarterly,	London Society,
North British Review,	Bentley's Miscellany,
Popular Science Review,	Cornhill Magazine,
Saturday Review,	Fraser's Magazine,
Leisure Hour,	Temple Bar,
Westminster Review,	Chambers's Journal,
Dublin University Magazine	Edinburgh Review,
Art Journal,	London National Review.

We have also arranged to secure choice selections from the FRENCH, GERMAN, AND OTHER CONTINENTAL Periodicals, translated especially for the Eclectic, and it is hoped this new feature will add greatly to the variety and value of the work.

EMBELLISHMENTS.

Each number is embellished with one or more FINE STEEL ENGRAVINGS—portraits of eminent men or illustrative of important historical events.

AGENTS WANTED.

We wish to establish agents in all the counties of this State as well as in all the principal towns and cities both North and South, for the purpose of procuring subscribers to the Daily and Weekly Banner—also, to obtain advertisements.

SHALL WE ADOPT IT?

The adoption of the proposed amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery, is announced authoritatively as a necessary pre-requisite to regaining admission into the sisterhood of States.

The President seems disposed to believe that the subject was purposely ignored by the State Conventions. While we do not suppose that such was the case, as the amendment is required to be adopted by the Legislatures, yet as the latter body will soon meet, we hope that it will investigate and deal with the subject with that candor and reflection, its importance upon our future destiny demands. And we utterly reject the insinuations of the Northern press, that the consideration of the amendment in question was evaded so that at a future day slavery might be restored in the States. The accusation is without foundation. Every man formerly held in slavery is fully and finally manumitted and has as complete and perfect legal right to his liberty as any one has to any species of property.—The adoption of the amendment cannot make that complete which is in itself complete and perfect. We are entirely satisfied that our people have long since made up their minds fully to accept the emancipation of their slaves, as one of forfeitures of failure, and further, that they are willing to adopt any measures which may be dictated by the North as necessary to (as it were) clinch the nail

Here is the proposed amendment:

RESOLUTION

Submitting to the Legislatures of the several States a Proposition to amend the Constitution of the United States.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, [two-thirds of both Houses concurring,] That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, as a part of the said constitution, namely:

ARTICLE XIII.

SEC. 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

We have yet to hear any objection to Sec. 1. Objection has been urged to Sec. 2, on the ground that it might be construed as conferring upon Congress, the authority to grant to the freedmen the right of suffrage and other similar rights and privileges of full citizenship.

There is nothing in the language of the section which can justify such an opinion. Having been held as slaves for so long a period, it was most probably thought that many attempts would be made to defy or evade the provision, and that the slave States would not pass laws sufficiently stringent to prevent such abuses. Hence, power is proposed to be conferred on Congress to secure the freedmen in their guaranteed liberty and not to confer rights which are in no wise essential to their freedom.

It must be read with reference both to the context and subject-matter. The first section provides that slavery shall not exist—the terms are negative—the act is a prohibition, and only confers the affirmative right of freedom by a negative pregnant. It only professes in terms to abrogate the right of the master to the control of his slave's will—it only professes to unloose the cords and strike off the manacles. By no construction can the section be carried further, and the second section cannot be construed to convey any other rights or fix any other status than that contemplated by and provided for in the first, for therein Congresss is only authorised to enforce that which was in the first section provided for.

Treating the foregoing views as correct, we hope that the amendment may be adopted at an early day by the Legislatures.

Judge of the Supreme Court.

Under this caption the Petersburg Index makes the subjoined remarks of B. F. Moore, Esq., of this State. It is but a merited tribute to the legal worth and acknowledged ability of Mr. Moore. But there is something singular about this well deserved compliment, and it is this: it comes from a Virginia paper, which is so very unusual, that we were, on first seeing it, almost disposed to doubt its real sincerity. The Petersburg Index, though, is a liberal, conservative, as well as a most excellent paper—far above that narrow-minded selfishness, which has, heretofore, characterized the Virginia press.

The Index says, the President is in no hurry to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the lamented Judge Catron. We take this as an indication of his purpose, at an appropriate time, to call to this distinguished position, some ornament of the Southern Bench or Bar, in order that, as far as possible, the government may be nationalized in all departments. The President will probably wait, therefore, until the restoration of all the Southern States gives him the opportunity of making his selection from a field as wide as the Union.

At present, the South has but one representative on the Supreme Bench, the venerable Judge Wayne, of Georgia—the remaining eight Justices and their Chief being citizens of Northern States.

When the proper moment arrives, there will be no difficulty in finding in the profession abundant material from which to select for this post a worthy successor to those jurists, who, from John Marshall to Roger Brooke Taney, reflected credit at once upon themselves, their eminent stations, and the section whence they came.

Prominent among these, occurs to our mind the name of a distinguished lawyer of our sister State, Hon. B. F. Moore, of North Carolina—a gentleman whose reputation in his profession has no equal, we believe, in his State, and whose practical judgment and extensive acquaintance with the history and structure of our government, point him out in a special manner for service in a tribunal whose decisions frequently involve the most abstruse, delicate and keenly controverted questions of political philosophy.

North Carolina may fairly lay claim to this distinction at this time, many of the other States of the South having been complimented, to her exclusion, with similar appointments, and it is a fortunate circumstance, as well for her honor as for the reputation of the position, that she can present a candidate so exalted in qualifications and so unexceptionable in character as Hon. Mr. Moore.

If, finally, the unfortunate inquisition into antecedents is still to be pursued, Mr. M. has, on this score, a peculiar fitness for the past. He has been marked throughout his whole life by a genuine conservatism, and his course in the late Convention of North Carolina, of which he was confessedly the leading spirit, demonstrated how heartily he accepted, and how willingly he conformed to the existing state of affairs.

LATE PAPERS.

We are under renewed obligations to Mr. O. White and other gentlemen connected with the Express company, for late papers.

Mr. JOHN M. JONES.

We have received a letter under the above name. We do not know Mr. Jones. He will please call round and have a private conversation with the editor, and help him drink a bottle of ale. He will please bring it with him, however, or the wherewith to procure it.

WHITFORD, DILL & CO.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this firm in our advertising columns. Mr. Whitford is widely and favorably known as one of the best business men in the country.—He was formerly President of the Atlantic R. R. Co.

ATTENTION CANDIDATES!

We would respectfully remind those of our aspiring friends, who's names we had the pleasure to announce as claimants for certain positions of trust, and who have not yet settled with the printer, that, to day is a most convenient time to do so.

AN OUTRAGE.

We learn as we go to press that a gang of desperadoes entered Mr. Hairston's house, at trading ford, on the night of the 16th inst., and broke everything to pieces they could not carry off. The party are supposed to be negroes.

LODGE MEETING.

Masons are requested to meet at their Hall this afternoon at three o'clock.

TO LOCAL MINISTERS.

A Convention of Local Ministers met in the city of Raleigh, on the 26th of Aug. 1864, for the purpose of interchanging sentiments and settling on such a policy as would tend to improve and elevate this particular class of the Methodist Ministry. W. K. Lane, was appointed President, L. Brouson Secretary; and W. H. Cunninggim, Treasurer of the convention.

This committee was appointed to correspond with the Brethren, and call the convention together again, at the earliest favorable time.

In pursuance of this duty, we have found our co-laborers, generally zealous in doing good, and favorable to forming the Local Ministry into some kind of an Association, to meet annually or oftener, that we may thus mutually improve ourselves, and devise plans for more effectually working in our holy calling.

We now notify the Convention, together with Local Ministers generally, to reassemble in Raleigh on the 8th of December, during the sitting of the N. C. Annual Conference..

PROPOSALS FOR CARRYING THE MAILS.

We publish below proposals for carying the mails weekly to the County seats of this State, until the first of January next. We trust that persons who may be disposed to make proposals will do so at once, as mails are very much needed. We learn that ten dollars per mile will be allowed for this temporary service. The post offices on the various lines will be supplied, and it is desirable that postmasters be appointed at once. Proposals for any of these routes, and nominations for Postmasters, may be addressed to Gov Holden, to be forwarded by him to Washington. Persons who may propose to carry the mails must offer the necessary evidence that they will comply with their contracts; and nominations for Postmasters must be endorsed by loyal men, known to the Governor. Females may act as Postmasters, and there is no objection to appionting them.

The advertisement for the regular mail service in this State will appear soon.

We learn that the granting of this special temporary mail service is due to the indefatigable exertions of Dr. R. J. Powell, the State Agent in Washington, aided by W. S. Mason and W. J. Palmer, Esqr's. of this city. We believe that no such favor has been extended to any other State.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
Washington Aug. 3, 1865.

SIR:—With a view to furnishing mail facilities. at the earliest practicable moment, to persons residing at and near County seats in the State of North Carolina, I have the honor to inform you that the Department on the receipt of reasonable bids for the transportation, will be prepared to issue orders authorizing temporary mail service on routes [illegible] nearest points on rrilroads on which mails are conveyed.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
W. DENNISON,
Postmaster General.

Hon. W. W. Holden, Provisional Governor of North Carolina, Raleigh.

N. B.—By "temporary mail service" is intended service to December 31st, next previous to which time all the routes in the State will be advertised for re-letting from Jan. 1st, 1866.

To the People of the South!

THE OLD

"EXAMINER" REVIVED!!

The undersigned, having purchased its good will and subscription books, proposes to revive, at an early day, the old Richmond Examiner, of which the late John M. Daniel was editor-in-chief, and the undersigned his constant associate for the entire period of the war.

It is believed that the public will recognize an appropriate and practical idea in this enterprise.—Efforts to revive other papers in the South are announced, and it is certainly neither a visionary nor unworthy endeavour for the literary associates of a gallant spirit that now sleeps in the grave to essay honour to his memory and a service to the public by reviving the old Examiner newspaper, so long the ornament of Southern letters, an example at once of the scholarship and chivalry of Virginia; and perhaps the only school in the South of pure and classick English distinct from the models and redeemed from the innovations of Northern instructors.

The fame of the old Richmond Examiner reached to the most distant parts of the world. The paper was well known in Europe. It was pronounced by a distinguished Northern politician "the best exponent of the civilization of the South." It was a school of literary scholarship for the youth of the South; the glass of Southern chivalry; an example of independence, of courage, of iron spirit in newspaper literature, which its chief illustrated in his own noble and severe life, and defended more than once on the field of honor, when the undersigned stood with in the vindication of the freedom of the press.

Surely there are many people in the South who will unite in an effort to revive a newspaper which was an ornament to its literature and a school for its virtues. The task is an ambitious one. But the undersigned attempts it in no mean or flagging spirit. He has already undertaken to marshal a corps of the old writers for the Examiner; he will be able to reproduce its typographical features, and present to Southern readers a fac simile of their old acquaintance; and he fervently trusts and resolutely pledges every resource of intellect and will to breathe again in this form of material resurrection the same spirit of fearless criticism, chivalrous contest and unhesitating encounter with abuse that animated it of old.

The undersigned owns some pledges of affection in this enterprise. His relations with the late John M. Daniel was close, intimate and affectionate to the day of his death. And it will indeed be a labor and aspiration of love if he can produce some echo from the grave of lamented friendship and rekindle from the ashes of the past and the dead some of the fire that illuminated the familiar pages of our literature.

In the present uncertainty of political questions—the dissappointment of old issues and the imperfect development of the new—it would, of course, be impossible to state with precision the political career of the Examiner. But this may be said with safety; that it will use all its influence in restoring order, tranquility and prosperity to the people; and while aspiring to be brave and independent, it will avoid every scheme of faction and disorganization, devote itself to the works of conservatism, and sustain, at every risk, the present President of the United States as long as he fulfills those noble indications he has already given of planting again the rights of constitutional liberty in the South, setting his face against the Malignants of the North, and thus entitling himself to such common support of conservative men in all parts of the country as will secure the continuation of his wise and patriotic administration.

No pains or expense will be spared to make the Examiner the newspaper of the South. For every department of it the services of the most accomplished and active writers will be secured. Special correspondents will be posted in New York and Washington and other important centres of intelligence in the country. A former active editor of the old Examiner, Edward A. Pollard, will be employed as correspondent from Europe, in which country he proposes to write a History of the War, and to form a familiar acquaintance with the politics of Europe, especially in connection with American questions and topicks. This correspondence will constitute a special feature of interest in our paper; it will enliven its columns from week to week with the productions of an animated pen; and it will afford our readers a singularly good opportunity to make themselves acquainted with cotemporary Europe, and to apprehend the growing interest of our foreign relations.

The undersigned was recently the editor of the Richmond Times, but in consequence of a disagreement with the part proprietor of that paper, he has been forced to leave it and appeal to the civil courts for his rights; and he now proposes to himself the nobler task of reviving a paper endeared to the South by many memories of the past, and associated with so much that is admirable in its heroick and literary name in history. He calls upon the old subscribers of the Examiner, from Virginia to Texas, to rally to its support, to renew their subscriptions, and to assist in the revival of a paper which has existed for three quarters of a century, and which has ever been solicitous to honor truth and virtue, prompt to chastise abuses, and ambitious to defend and adorn the civilization and literature of the South.

Advertisements will be inserted on the same terms as published by the other Richmond papers.

The first number of the Examiner will contain a sketch of the life of the late John M. Daniel, whose name is historical in connection with the Virginia press, and than whom the annals of newspaper literature in America show few more extraordinary men—certainly no greater master of vigor and satire in composition. The first numbers will also contain a full and complete account of the evacuation of Richmond, with all the particulars of the surrender of the city, the entry of the troops, the great conflagration, &c. [illegible] from the advance sheets of E. A. Polard's "Fourth Year of the War," now in press. This account will be found intensely interesting; and aside from this consideration, every one should secure and preserve these numbers, as they will be valuable hereafter as affording a true and faithful report of what the South has had hitherto but the imperfect narratives which have been written and published in the Northern press.

The old contributors and correspondents of the Examiner are particularly requested to communicate with the undersigned.

All letters and communications of every character should be addressed to

Also, immediately, twenty active and enterprising men to travel and canvass for the paper—a fine chance for men out of employment. H. R. P.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday 2d January next.

Confidently relying upon the hearty suport which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains nor expense, in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the CHURCH, also, partake of this progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies, brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless, in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the CHURCH to the importance and necessity of WORK: of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us both the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all that we hope for on the earth.

THE FARMER,

A MONTHLY JOURNAL,

DEVOTED TO AGRICULTURE, HORTICULTURE, THE AUXILIARY MECHANIC ARTS, AND TO HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY.

To be Published at Richmond, Va.

The undersigned propose to publish in this city—commencing in January, 1866—a monthly Journal to be styled "THE FARMER," whose pages shall be devoted to Agriculture, Horticulture, the auxiliary Mechanic Arts and to Household Economy. A Journal which shall faithfully and successfully represent these cardinal interests by the dissemination of practical information & thorough, sound instruction, will supply a desideratum which is widely and deeply felt in the present exigency of our affairs, and ought, therefore, (we should think) readily to commend itself to popular acceptation, and command, in return, a remunerating patronage. "Faithfully" and "successfully" to support these interests, requires a Journal of the highest order of its kind. It is to nothing short of this high standard of public usefulness that "The Farmer" aspires, and to reach and maintain it, will be an object of unremitting effort and unsparing liberality of expenditure. It seeks recognition as a worthy organ of these cardinal branches of national industry, of which it assumes the special advocacy, and hopes to meet the requirements of the position satisfactorily to those whose interests are more immediately involved.

We are fallen upon times of peculiar and unexampled difficulty. The sudden and violent overthrow of African slavery, without premonition of its near approach, or preparation for the event, interwoven, as it was, with the very texture of our social constitution, has rendered all past experience with respect to the economy and regulation of labor nugatory, razed to its foundation the entire system of Southern agriculture, and necessitated its re-construction and re-organization in accordance with the recent changes in our circumstances and relations. Suddenly launched upon a tempestuous sea of danger and perplexity without the polar star of experience to guide us, we must, as best we can, improvise the measures which appear at the moment the best adapted to the purposes of present security, and as calmly as we may, await the slow progress of tentative effort and empirical practice for the development of facts and the matured fruits of experience and observation from the careful comparison and generalization of all which, sound principles may be deduced for our future guidance and direction. Then will a new creation of order, harmony and beauty spring out of the chaotic disorder and confusion which now prevail. Then will the desolation and ruin which mar the face of the country be repaired. And not till then shall wholesome and stable rules and regulations control the entire system of husbandry, with its adjuncts and subsidiaries, and give force and efficiency to the administrative measures necessary for the conduction of all its operations to the most satisfactory and profitable results.

To facilitate and promote these important considerations, a good agricultural journal is an obvious necessity. A medium of communication, for the interchange among farmers of views and opinions entertained by them respectively on subjects appertaining to their common calling, is indispensable, and they especially need a vehible of intelligence for the transmission of the earliest notice of improvement in any department of husbandry, that, by a wide diffusion of such notice, the improvements may be adopted in practice and thus prove a general benefit to the farming fraternity.

Now, to sum up in a word: It is to meet this obvious and pressing necessity that the proprietors propose to publish the above described paper, and in behal of the undertaking they respectfully solicit the patronage of the public.

The best talent, both practical and theoretical which the country affords, will be commanded in aid of this enterprise, and no expense will be spared in the effort to make the Journal complete in all respects.

It will be printed on good paper and with clear type, and will comprise thirty two pages of reading matter. An advertising sheet of capacity sufficient to accommodate the advertising patronage of the Journal will be added.

Papers disposed to exchange with The Farmer will send their papers at once.

National Thanksgiving Day.

Proclamation by President Johnson.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God during the year which is now coming to an end, to relieve our beloved country from the fearful scourge of civil war, and to permit us to secure the blessings of peace, unity and harmany with a great enlargement of civil liberty: And Whereas our Heavenly Father has also during the present year graciously averted from us the calamities of foreign war, pestilence and famine, while our granaries are full of the fruits of an abundant season: And Whereas righteousness exalteth a nation, while sin is a reproach to any people:

Now, therefore, be it known, that I ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, do hereby recommend to the people thereof that they do set apart and observe the first Thursday of December next as a day of National Thanks—given to the Creator of the Universe for these deliverences and blessings. And I do further recommend, that on the occasion the whole people make confession of our national sins against His infinite goodness, and with one heart and one mind implore the Divine guidance in the ways of national virtue and holiness.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and six-
[L.S.] ty five, and of the Independence of the U. States of America the nineteenth.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

DOLLAR NOTE

A new counterfeit legal-tender note of the denomination of fifty dollars has been prepared, which has been pronounced the most difficult of detection of any which has been issued lately. There are, however, two discrepancies between the genuine and the spurious notes which will be apparent to the public. One of them is in that part of the engraving of the head of Hamilton, upon the face of the note, which represents the lines to the waistcoat crossing the white collar at the neck. The acute angel formed by the shape of the collar, so far as it shown, is perfect in the counterfeit note; but in the genuine the lines of the flesh were drawn by the engraver across the point of the collar at its junction with the waistcoat, for the purpose of relieving the angle of the sharpness it would otherwise exhibited. The difference is not observed unless the note is perfectly clean. The other discrepency is in the shape of the ornaments in the border on each end of the face of the bill, and in the whole border on the back. The figures "50" are engraved on a green ground, of which the rim in the genuine bill is in octagonal form, rather well defined, though the angles are not sharp. The eight sides of what, at first view, appeared to be circles, may be especially discerned. In the counterfeit bill, the border ornaments containing the "50" are octagonal in only a very slight degree, and seem to be perfect circles. The general appearance of the counterfeit gives no indication of its true character. It would be the best course to purpose in regard to these particular fifties to refuse them entirely until the Government can make a re-issue to take their place.—Richmoud Whig.

Maryland Eelection.—The election, which took place in Maryland on Tuesday, resulted, as was expected, in favor of the Republicans. The Sun of yesterday says of the vote in Baltimore:

The election in this city yesterday, excited very little interest, and only 5,193 votes were polled for Sheriff, although about 11,000 were registered. All the regular Union nominees were elected, with little or no opposition. Mr. William Thompson is elected Sheriff. He received 4,684 votes. His competitor, Mr. Applegarth, received 520 votes.—Samuel M. Evens is elected clerk of the Circuit Court. He received 4,963 votes, and his competitor, Mr. Freeze 231 votes. William P. Eaton is elected Senator from the third legislative district, and John Barron to the House of Delegates from the same district. J. Nelson Foster, is elected delegate to the General Assembly form the first legislative district. Gilbert H. Bryson, is elected surveyor of Baltimore city. In the first seven wards of the city, John L. Thomas received 2,039 votes, and Wm. Kimmell 59 votes for Congress.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S DOMINIONS.—The Queen of England is now sovereign over one continent, a hundred peninsula, five hundred promontories, a thousand lakes, two thousand rivers and ten thousand sand islands. Her subjects number more than one hundred and fifty millions. By a wave of her hand she can summon an army of five hundred thousand soldiers, and a navy of a thousand ships of war and a hundred thousand sailors. The Assyrian empire was not so wealthy as that of Great Britain; the Roman Empire was not so populous; the Persian Empire was not so extensive; the Arabian Empire was not so powerful; the Carthagenian Empire was not so much dreaded; the Spanish Empire was not so widely diffused.

—The Augusta Chronicle states, by the express request of Hon. A. H. Stephens, that he will not, under any circumstances, become a candidate for any position.

—The Trenton Republican states that the Democrats in New Jersey charge their defeat upon the Fenians who, they say, voted bodily against Gen. Runyon.

—Gov. Buckingham of Connecticut, has issued a long proclamation, the substance of which is that the Constitutional Amendment extending suffrage to the negroes was defeated by the following vote: Yeas, 27,217; nays, 33,489.

The Watchman.

THE subscriber proposes to commence in the city of New York, at an early date, the publication of a weekly Journal, to take the highest practicable position on its line of Literature. Each number will contain eight large pages, with six colounms to each page, printed on excellent paper in a superior style of photography, and so folded that it may be bound.

It will discuss all the current topics of Religion, Sociology, Science, Art, Politics, Commerce, Finance and Agriculture, liberally, carefully, thoroughly, and from a broad platform far above all partizanship. While the entire control of the work will be in the hands of the Editor, he hopes to have a circulation which will enable him to secure in its department the best talent America and Europe can afford.

Faithful to his own Denomination, he trusts that he is so well known in all the Churches for liberality, that any publication of his may unhesitatingly be sent into the families of any Christian community. It may be the mission of this Journal to make all Christians see one another in a lovelier light. The subscriber has an earnest desire, and will make a hearty effort, to produce such a publication that where a family can take only one paper, this will more nearly supply all its wants than any other. A Home Gazette, a Repertory of all the best current Literature, a Summary of all important Intelligence in every department of Human Efforts, a Journal of Progress, an Advocate of Truth in all things, a Friend, a Guide, a Blessing—this is what "The Watchman" is intended to become.

The Editor has never been a partisan, and expects the discussion of politics in his journal to have to do mainly with its higher aspects and questions. The only desirable and permanent Union of States or of churches is a union upon the basis of an affectionate reception of a fundamental, political, or moral and religious truths with a hearty hatred of all certain error, and a generous absence of all fanaticism and zeal in regard to what is not essential to political common weal or spiritual salvation. Into this happy unity the "Watchman" will labor to bring all within the reach of its influence.

This journal will afford a common meeting ground for Southern men of all views and thus keep our people in one portion of the South informed of the sentiments and views of those in other parts. It will present to other sections of the U. States a clear view of the animus of our people It will thus secure the South justice and support without promoting sectionalism.

Many reasons unnecessary to state have led many influential persons to the belief that the interests of the South and of the whole country will be greatly promoted by issuing the publication from New York.

The price is put at $2 for the first six months, or $1 for the first three months. No subscription received for less than three, or more than six months. These terms allow one to subscribe for several copies for a short time, for general distribution. The first person who responded to a circular issued just before this prospectus, subscribed for 20 copies to distribute North and South. Write plainly the name, the post office, and number of copies and the length of time, and address.

Box 120, Raleigh, N. C.

HEADQUARTERS, District W. N. C.,
Salisbury, N. C., Nov. 11th, 1865.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 3.

Most of the misconduct of the troops in this District, has been occasioned by the use of intoxicating liquor. This liquor in most cases is procured from citizens.

The Col. Commanding the District is sincerely desirous of securing discipline among the troops, but it is well nigh impossible to do so, while the principal cause of the difficulty is furnished by the citizens, themselves.

It is hereby directed that all persons, who shall sell, barter, or give away to any soldier, any intoxicating liquor, of any kind whatsoever shall be arrested, and tried by a Provost Court, and on being found guilty shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both.

All officers, are strictly enjoined to use every exertion to ferrer out and bring to punishment those who may violate this order, and all good citizens, are earnestly requested to aid in its execution.

By Command of
COL. JASPER PACKARD.
